

BEITRÄGE ZUR JAPANOLOGIE 50

A photograph showing three cyclists from behind, riding on a paved road. They are wearing backpacks and cycling gear. The background features a rural Japanese landscape with traditional houses, a row of greenhouses, and large mountains under a cloudy sky.

RESEARCH INTO JAPANESE SOCIETY

REFLECTIONS FROM THREE PROJECTS INVOLVING STUDENTS AS RESEARCHERS DURING THE COVID-19 PANDEMIC

EDITED BY

SEBASTIAN POLAK-ROTTMANN & ANTONIA MISERKA

RESEARCH INTO
JAPANESE SOCIETY
REFLECTIONS FROM THREE PROJECTS
INVOLVING STUDENTS AS RESEARCHERS
DURING THE COVID-19 PANDEMIC

EDITED BY
SEBASTIAN POLAK-ROTTMANN & ANTONIA MISERKA

BEITRÄGE ZUR JAPANOLOGIE

VERÖFFENTLICHUNGEN DER ABTEILUNG FÜR JAPANOLOGIE
DES INSTITUTS FÜR OSTASIENWISSENSCHAFTEN
DER UNIVERSITÄT WIEN

BAND 50

REIHENHERAUSGEBER*INNEN

INGRID GETREUER-KARGL

INA HEIN

WOLFRAM MANZENREITER

RESEARCH INTO
JAPANESE SOCIETY
REFLECTIONS FROM THREE PROJECTS
INVOLVING STUDENTS AS RESEARCHERS
DURING THE COVID-19 PANDEMIC

EDITED BY
SEBASTIAN POLAK-ROTTMANN & ANTONIA MISERKA

VIENNA 2023

The copyright of the individual contributions lies with the respective authors, the copyright of the book rests with the editors, and the copyright of the series Beiträge zu Japanologie belongs to the Department of Japanese Studies, Institute of East Asian Studies, University of Vienna.
© 2023, Vienna, Austria

In addition to the print version, an electronic version is also available on PHAIDRA (<https://phaidra.univie.ac.at/>) under a CC BY-NC-SA 4.0 license (Attribution-NonCommercial-ShareAlike 4.0 International).

ISBN 978-3-900362-33-1
DOI: <https://doi.org/10.25365/BZJ-050-000>

Publisher and copyright:
Abteilung für Japanologie, Institut für Ostasienwissenschaften, Universität Wien,
Spitalgasse 2, Hof 2, Tür 2.4, 1090 Wien, Österreich

Printed with the support of the Faculty of Philology and Cultural Studies at the University of Vienna.

Print: Riegelnik GesmbH, Neustiftgasse 129, A-1070 Wien, Österreich.

Cover design: Julia Ramprecht
Student researchers cycling in Aso.

Recommended citation:
Polak-Rottmann, Sebastian / Miserka, Antonia (eds.)
2023 Research into Japanese society: Reflections from three projects involving students as researchers during the COVID-19 pandemic (= Beiträge zur Japanologie; 50). Wien: Abteilung für Japanologie, Institut für Ostasienwissenschaften, Universität Wien.
DOI: <https://doi.org/10.25365/BZJ-050-000>

TABLE OF CONTENTS

SEBASTIAN POLAK-ROTTMANN & ANTONIA MISERKA
Research into Japanese society: Reflections from three projects involving students as researchers during the COVID-19 pandemic—Introduction	7
PART 1—GIVING STUDENTS SOMETHING WORTH RESEARCHING: INVOLVING UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS IN RESEARCH AT SOPHIA UNIVERSITY
DAVID H. SLATER (PROJECT ADVISOR)
Giving students something worth researching	17
AYANO SOMA (STUDENT)
Positionality in student research with an African refugee: Negotiating successful interviewing through student mentoring as senpai	33
THAW TAR (STUDENT)
Shifting perspectives under political stress: Interviewing Burmese students stranded in Japan	43
MEGUMI FAITH MALLARI (STUDENT)
Understanding vulnerabilities virtually: Oral narrative research on a Syrian refugee amid the COVID-19 pandemic	51
PART 2—EXPERIENCING RURAL JAPAN THROUGH REMOTE FIELDWORK: INVOLVING UNDERGRADUATE AND GRADUATE STUDENTS IN RESEARCH AT THE UNIVERSITY OF VIENNA
HANNO JENTZSCH & SEBASTIAN POLAK-ROTTMANN (PROJECT ADVISORS)
Rural spaces, remote methods—the virtual Aso Winter Field School 2022	63
WOLFRAM MANZENREITER (PROJECT ADVISOR)
Training for fieldwork in Japan at home: Reflections on the 2022 D Summer Field School	79
KATJA PALASZEWSKI, STEFAN PÖLLITZER, HANNAH PILAR EGGER & TOBIAS SIMEK (STUDENT PROJECT)
Loneliness in Aso: Community-building against ageing, depopulation and pandemic influences	97
JOHANNA MAYR, LENKA MIYANOHARA & BENEDIKT SCHULTZ (STUDENT PROJECT)
Tanoshimi ga nakunatta: Effects of the COVID-19 pandemic on social activities in the Aso region	111

WILHELM MAN DONKO, MELANIE STEINBRUGGER, MAX FORTIN (STUDENT PROJECT)
The potential of remote areas—the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on the disaster-prone tourism sector of the Aso region in Japan	121
RABIA DEVECI, KALOYAN IVANOV & JULIANA NEUNINGER (STUDENT PROJECT)
The promotion of migration through the local Chiiki okoshi kyōryokutai in Minamiaso	131

PART 3—URBAN-RURAL MIGRATION AND RURAL REVITALIZATION IN JAPAN: INVOLVING PhD STUDENTS IN RESEARCH AT FREIE UNIVERSITÄT BERLIN

CORNELIA REIHER (PROJECT ADVISOR)
Studying rural Japan with PhD students during a global pandemic: Ex- periences from the research project “Urban-rural migration and rural revitalisation in Japan”	145
TU THANH NGO (STUDENT)
Overcoming the COVID-19 pandemic: Lessons learned from joining a group project in times of turbulence	161
CECILIA LUZI (STUDENT)
Adapting schedules and learning to collaborate: Reflections on a PhD experience in a group project during the pandemic	173

PART 4—BOOK TALK

JOHN W. TRAPHAGAN TALKING WITH SEBASTIAN POLAK-ROTTMANN
Cosmopolitan rurality and changing life in rural Japan	187
CONTRIBUTORS	211