

TIME & TIDE

E. Schrödinger, Esq.

~~Berlin - Grunewald~~

~~Eurostrasse~~

N. 14¹¹/₁₁. Oxford (England)

Magdalen - College.

Germany.

You don't mean to say you have 33-1008

18.XI.35

23, PORTMAN COURT,
LONDON, W.1.

Dear Mr Schrödinger

I deeply regret that the amazing blunder was made in the office of June Tide of setting up your article in type. Sending it to you. I went through it putting in as I said in my letter to you possible renderings in English vernacular of the terms you used and at the end I scribbled a note for my own guidance as how I imagined the article might be about to be concluded by you. To my dismay I found the whole had been sent you & you must have thought I was suggesting taking a wholly unwarrantable liberty with your work. I had asked that the M.S. might be typed out, sent to me & then if I found it read clearly I was going to post it to you asking you whether you would care to complete it. The mistake was made through someone quite unknown to me in the office partly off the text to you. I must explain I am not the stop cannot understand your letter. Please explain actual situation. What has happened?

S.C.H.

editor but only an outsider who was asked by Lady Rhonda - the proprietress
to collect various distinguished writers
as contributors to a series of Supplements.

I am therefore not worthy in the office &
can only ask that my instructions be followed. In this case they were completely disregarded. I can only apologise deeply for what must have seemed strangely discontented behaviour.

Again with regret

Yours sincerely

Gerald Howard

Gerald Howard